A Romance of the Sea.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 7.—Some weeks since an article from a New Orleans paper was extensively published throughout the country, to the effect that the crew of the schooner Florida, which sailed for California from New Orleans, had supposed to have been lost, while all on board had been discovered on an island in the Southern Pacific, by an English vessel which had been driven there by the continual storms. The crew stated that the Florida had been wrecked on the uninhabited island 26 years ago, and in the interval they had not seen a human face. They declined, however, leaving the island, having established themselves in comfort. The story was said to have created a great sensation among relatives of the crew. An effort, it is said, is being made to man a vessel to visit the island. The Courier-Journal will publish an interview with a gentleman who was living in Valparaiso, Chili, in 1819. He states that the Florida put into some Chilian penal settlement, and the convicts boarded her and massacred all the crew but a young man named Marcum, and made sail for the main land. Marcum was the one who was recaptured by a Chilian war vessel and brought to Valparaiso, where the Courier-Journal's informant got the above details from Marcum's own lips. Marcum's parents still live in Versailles, Ky. He proceeded to California where he died of smallpox, in Placerville. The British steamer Thetis had first seen the Florida after her capture by convicts, and gave information to the Chilian authorities which led them to send out the vessel which brought her back. A revolution was in progress at the time, and records of the event may be lost, but the full details were on the log book of the Thetis, which may be examined in the office of the British admiralty.

Arrest of the Treasury Thieves.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—On Thursday a detective of this city, returned in company with Theodore W. Brown, commonly known as Peleg Brown, arrested at Saratoga, charged with being connected with the robbery of the $47,000 treasury package on the 2d of June. This afternoon he was brought before Judge Wylie on a writ of habeas corpus, but the judge declined to release him on bail for the reason that this warrant was from a fellow citizen and the court had jurisdiction. A telegram received from New York states that Benj. B. Halleck, clerk of the treasury cash room, on leave of absence, was arrested to-day, charged with being connected with the larceny, and that he came here to-night. While in New York, he visited the jewelry, tailor, dry goods, carriage and harness establishments, making inquiries, as if he intended making large purchases. This afternoon Wm. C. Ouimal, a restaurant keeper, was arrested, charged with being implicated in the larceny. The detectives feel confident they have the right parties and are sure that a portion of the money will be recovered. Friends of Brown are making efforts to have him released on bail, but the authorities demand bonds to the amount of $100,000 for his appearance. Halleck was recently promoted to assistant shipping teller in the post room. He is a native of New York, and has been employed in the department about eight years. Brown was discharged from the quartermaster general's office about a year ago on account of tendency to a theft. Halleck arrived to night on the road here he attempted to throw away a memorandum book, but the officers secured it and found in it the figures $47,097 65, the exact amount of money in the stolen package. These figures are pencilled with lead pencils, though they had been divided by two and the quotient, $23,548 56½ remained untouched. On the same page was another entry of $9,870 raved to show. W. H., August 5, 1875." Halleck moved forcibly conflicting statements in regard to the entries, but finally admitted the attempt to throw the book away as the figures would convict him.

While in the boat he became cognizant of his position, but was unable to do anything to effect an escape. After rowing a while the men stopped the boat, threw Mr. Meyers overboard and rowed back to shore. Meyers succeeded in reaching the shore, and wandered about till nearly 4 o'clock in the morning, when he met a man who conducted him home. Amen.

The Albany Democrat says: "We had hoped that the people of Benton county would raise the $40,000 necessary to secure the Yaquina bay railroad, but it now looks like there was danger of a failure in the matter. FARMING ITEMS.

The farmers of Wasco county have about completed harvesting and sold their wool and are now in easy circumstances.

In Idaho City apples are selling at twelve and a half cents per pound; potatoes eight, cabbage, eight, and peas six cents.

And now the reaper reapeth, the mower moweth, and the little bumble-bee getteth up the busy granger's trousers leg and bumbleth.

From all sections, as far as we can learn, says the Olympia Farmer, crops are turning out even better than anticipated. Farmers are still very busy harvesting.

Farmers near Olympia state that there is only two-thirds of a hay crop this year, nearly all of which has been cut and put up. They have raised the price to $12 delivered, and think it will soon be higher.

Mr. J. G. Jonillo has been locating land in the vicinity of Snoqualmie for a number of his countrymen—Scandinavians. He expects, on the next steamer from San Francisco, five families who will go thither in quest of new homes. Ten other families will probably soon follow them.

A gentleman writing from Woodburn to the Statesman, under date of 2d inst., says: Harvest has now commenced, and in this part of the country the fall wheat will reach above an average and is of very fine quality. The spring crop will be short; oats will be much below the average. New wheat is coming in to-day.

Mr. T. B. Watt informs the Statesman that many new settlers are coming in and locating in the vicinity of his place, which is located near Zena, Polk county, about seven miles west of Salem. Most of them come from the grasshopper regions, and they are a thrifty, enterprising class of people. They are buying or renting small farms, and going to work with a will.

The Statesman, of last Saturday says: "Wheat in the Salem market advanced a few days since to $1 per bushel, and after staying at that figure about two days receded owing to a sudden advance in river and ocean freights to about 90 cents. Yesterday the Salem advanced the price to 95 cents, but what caused the advance we are not yet advised.

The Messenger says the farmers are rushing things lively at Independence. The new warehouse will require 320,000 feet of lumber for its construction. Both mills are running on long time getting it out, and prospects generally never looked better. The new M. E. church is already pointing its graceful spire heavenward, and we suppose the Christian church will not be far behind it in building.

The Journal says some threshing has been done in Lane county. So far as we can learn the yield averages very well with that of previous seasons. As a general thing the fall wheat is better than spring wheat. The grain seems more plump and heavy, while spring wheat appears dry, wrinkled and light, looking similar to that raised in Minnesota and the extreme Northern States, but as there is a great deal more fall than spring wheat, our crop will not be materially reduced.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Colonist says the woods at Saanich and Lake are full of deer. One party of three saw fifty-one on Sunday, 1st inst., and bagged five.

Two children named Styles were picked by injured at Victoria, last week, by the explosion of some percussion caps with which they were playing.

The 100 acres of coal land at Wellington, near Nanaimo, belonging to the estate of the late Wm. Rippon, was sold last week to a Mr. Bossi for $16,500.

By a recent order, each importer in British Columbia who has a bonded warehouse must have it in a separate building from that in which he sells his goods. This regulation will bear heavily on some Victoria merchants.

In consequence of a request from the authorities of New Westminster, B. C., the Indian commissioner has ordered all Northern Indians out of that town and forbidden them to land there, as they have smallpox among them.

Bush fires are raging in the vicinity of Nanaimo, the coal town of Wellington, one day last week, very nearly being destroyed by that means. One bridge was burned down, and only by the united exertions of all was great loss prevented.

At Ashcroft, while some Indians and Chinamen were testing a pocket-pistol, a charge fired by a Chinaman in the direction of an Indian camp, about 150 yards distant, accidentally struck an Indian child, 18 months old, the ball penetrating its breast, killing it almost instantly.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company are negotiating with Capt. D. B. Finch for the purchase of his fine steamer Olympia, which is at present laid up at San Francisco, to run between Victoria and Puget Sound, connecting with their ocean steamships from San Francisco.

THE BLACK HILLS.

GOLD, GRASS, FARM LANDS AND TIMBER.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The following dispatch from Prof. Jenny was received at the interior department this morning:

CAMP ON SPRING CREEK, Black Hills, Dakota, July 17—The Hon. E. R. Smith, Commissioner of Indian Affairs: I have discovered gold in paying quantities in gravel bars, both on Spring and Rapid creeks, from 20 to 30 miles northeast of Harney's Peak. The deposits are the richest yet found in the Hills, and are favorably situated. There is a good head of water in the streams, amply sufficient for working purposes. The gold is derived from quartz ledges of enormous dimensions in a belt of clay, slate, and quartz. It is 20 miles wide, crossing the Hills in a northwesterly direction. At this point the day from the bed of the stream near camp yields from four to eight cents to the pan, and several pieces about the value of a dollar have been found by the soldiers. I am encouraged in prospecting the value and extent of the region. About 200 miners have deserted French creek, and followed me here. They are pouring into the Hills from all directions, and offer me every assistance in prospecting the country. But no matter how good the mines may be, the future great wealth of the Black Hills will be its grass lands, farms, and timber. The soil is deep and fertile, and the rainfall greater and more regular than that of any region west of the Alleghany Mountains.

The secretary of the interior immediately sent a copy of the above dispatch to the president, and is in consultation with him by telegraph as to the action of the Government in relation to the presence of the miners in the Black Hills. The secretary states that the Government will use all the means at its command to keep every unprivileged person out of the mining district, until the negotiations now pending shall be consummated. As soon as a change of action is decided upon the Sioux commissioners will be notified.

THE TERRITORIES.

Wyoming will elect forty legislators next September.

Idaho city has 120 school children—sixty boys and sixty girls.

The troops at the Wyoming posts are being paid off by Paymaster Stanton.

The bark Montana took on 1,055 tons of coal at Seattle in fifty hours last week.

Bozeman, Montana, has shipped $60,000 worth of robes, furs and skins this season.

Capt. Lawson, of the coast survey, is engaged in surveying the harbor of Port Blakely.

The price of freight between Boise and Idaho City is a cent and a half, currency, per pound.

Five hundred Shoshone and Bannock Indians are loafing and begging around Evanston.

A stone chapel 25 feet wide and 75 feet deep, and of gothic style, is being erected in Santa Fe by the Sisters of Loretto.

On Thursday, August 26, 1875, the races over the Star race course, near Idaho City, will commence and continue four days.

Martin Harris, a ninety-three-old Mormon boy, died at Logan, Utah; on the 1st inst. He emigrated to Utah with the exodus of '48.

The two new barkentines now on the stocks at Ludlow are fast drawing to completion. One of them is to be launched in a few days.

The people of Snohomish, Skykomish and Snoqualmie are making arrangements to build a steamer to be used on those rivers exclusively.

The N. P. R. R. Co. continues selling large quantities of their lands in Washington Territory. The sales of July exceeded $200,000 in amount.

The largest railroad bridge in the territories is now in course of construction across Bear river, on the Utah Northern line, its length being 2,100 feet.

There is a Chinese fishery at Port Madison which has been doing quite a large business in salting and drying perch for the Chinese market in San Francisco.

The Salt Lake Tribune says the average Mormon usually signs himself "Yours in Krist," and yet has managed to steal from the government $3,000,000 worth of lumber.

For the last two months the wharf at Port Townsend has been continuously covered with chains, anchors, water tanks, blocks and other gearing, which is being brought from the wrecked ship Volcano, by Mr. B. S. Fowler, who purchased it at the underwriters' sale some months since.

Some time during last spring there was a land slide near Montesano, in Chehalis county, on the farm of Mr. Steammons, which is quite a curiosity. It has thrown from the main bank, or made by an upheaving from the bottom of the Chehalis river, an island of about 75 yards in length, by 40 or 50 in width, and projects about 50 feet above the water level. By this slide is exposed a very fine ledge of first rate sand stone, which will at some future time be of great value. In some instances, large trees were broken off near the roots and thrown up hill, as though the movement of the earth had been so sudden that the butt of trees were broken off before the top began to move. There are also large logs, some of them five or six feet in diameter, that were broken square off as though the earth had moved quicker in some places than others. The whole ground is broken and cracked up with deep openings in the earth from five to twenty feet deep, and from four to five feet wide.

POLITICAL.

B. F. Dowell, Lindsey Applegate, J. C. Tolman, Clark Taylor and Mr. Eaton, will represent Jackson county in the Republican State Convention.

The Republican convention of Lane county elected delegates to attend the State convention to convene at Salem, Aug. 11, as follows: A. G. Hovey, John Kelly, Jas. Owen, Geo. Humphrey, W. R. Walker, William Smith and E. A. McCornack.

The following persons have been selected to represent Yamhill county in the Republican State convention that meets at Salem next Wednesday, the 11th inst.: T. N. Graves, A. R. Burbank, R. L. Simpson, W. H. Boyd, R. H. Lampson, L. Laughlin.

FIRES.

E. W. Willelm, who lives on the adjoining farm below Col. Felton, near the Dalles, had all of his grain, hay and tools burned up by the Indians setting fire to the stacks. The Indians are suspicioned.

The house of Mr. Malley, on Shoalwater Bay, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 1st inst. The family all escaped though they were not able to save any of their furniture except a sewing machine.

AN AWKWARD SITUATION.

THE MISHAP THAT BEFELL A PARTY OF BATHERS IN CONNECTICUT.

A rather amusing incident, and one decidedly embarrassing to four people, occurred the other day, at Wauregan, Connecticut. Two gentlemen and their wives, pleasure-seekers, concluded it would be a nice thing to bathe in the pure water of the Quinebaug river, and so all four drove out together to the banks of the stream in a retired nook in the forest. It must not be supposed that all was arcadian simplicity and innocence with the luxurious quartette; there was nothing of the costume of Paradise about the affair. Children of fashion these were, and the ladies retired to some natural dressing-room in the shade, and the gentlemen to another, all emerging presently clad in bathing-suits as gaudy as those of Long Branch or Newport. Then all plunged in the water together and had any amount of fun.

The water of the river was cool, the trees cast a grateful shadow, soft breezes played

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING AUGUST 9 1875

AS DECLARED BY THE FATHERS

By a law of our mental constitution whatever has been ordained by those of a past generation whose deeds have a conspicuous place in history, commands our respect and challenges our reverence This is one of the forms assumed by our instinctive admiration of the heroes who have lived long enough ago for memory to have expunged from its record all note of whatever tended to mar their character leaving them demigods instead of the men they appeared to be in their day and generation Thus do we make for ourselves models really worthy of emulation out of men whose contemporaries knew them only as men of common mould, better and greater it may be, than the men of to-day, but possessed, after all, of the ambitions and hates and jealousies and weaknesses exhibited by their descendants, men whose sagacity and prudence must always command respect, but who could only become objects of worship in the enchanted vision that beholds them at a great distance And history compels us to say however much we may wish it were otherwise, that these remarks are especially appropriate when applied to those venerable personages who are so frequently and so reverently mentioned by the Democratic Conventions as 'The Fathers" That would be rather an indefinite term, if used by anybody but the Democratic politician, or in any other connection than that in which the Democratic politician is wont to use it But so employed it has a well known signification "The Fathers" are, first of all, Thomas Jefferson, and after him his lieutenants and disciples down through a line of legitimate succession to John C Calhoun, a disciple but a greater than his master

It is too late in the history of this government, at least we hope it is, to reopen seriously the discussion of the questions upon which the controversies were based which made them "The Fathers" of the Democracy If those questions have not been settled for all time it is to be feared our system of politics is incapable of settling anything We had supposed until very recently that even the most fossiliferous Democracy of the times could hardly produce a man who would desire to have those defunct issues resurrected and fought out again with all the attendant horrors of the struggle in which they were decided But from the language of the latest authoritative utterances of the Democracy, one might draw a very different inference The Oregon Democratic convention, for instance, while declaring stoutly for the maintenance of the Union, declares its allegiance to the principles of republican government with a qualification It must be the principles of republican government "as declared by the Fathers of the Republic,' which, according to Democratic interpretation, means as declared by the above mentioned fathers of the Democratic party The principles of republican government as declared by the people of this republic, by amendments to the federal constitution, are in some very important particulars at variance with the principles as declared by the Fathers But it is not to the present, but the past republic, that the Democracy declare their undying devotion It is not the principles of republican government," with universal freedom and equality before the law, as established by the constitution as it is, but the principles of a government 'half free and half slave' under the constitution as it was, that challenges the admiration of the Democratic conventions of 1875

Now, this all may be innocent of any ulterior purpose, and intended merely as bit of rhetorical clap trap, ad captandum vulgus—a conjecture which appears the more plausible when we remember how susceptible the average Democratic "vulgus" is to such flourishes But the constitution as it is is the best tribunal of final appeal for the citizen of the republic of to day, and the appeal to any other standard of republican government, especially by the Democratic party, is painfully suggestive of something which the American people do not want to see again The manly, unqualified acceptance of the present is the condition precedent to all progress in the future If the Democratic party has made up its mind to get down into the rut of the past and hang its destiny on the revival of a creed which the American people have spewed out of their mouths, with a retching that deluged the country in blood, it is time for the people to know it, and for the better thinking the progressive the truly patriotic among its ranks to identify themselves with men who have some interest in the present and future of the Republic

THE INTER COLLEGIATE REGATTA

The college regatta at Saratoga last month excited more extended interest than anything of the kind that ever before took place in this country The number of colleges contesting, and the extent to which training had gone made the race one of the great events of the year All the leading newspapers of the Atlantic States had special reporters on the ground, and diagrams of the course, with the position of every boat at each eighth of a mile from the start, were telegraphed to the New York dailies appearing next morning along with accounts of the race which filled columns with details

But there was one circumstance which had but a bare mention and yet a very important item A correspondent says "there were a hundred college colors to be seen in John Morrissey's place at once on the day of the regatta John Morrissey's place is the principal gambling house at Saratoga, almost the principal one in the United States All day we are informed by the press there was a constant stream of gamesters going in and out at John Morrissey's door and the aggregate amount of the bets laid on the race by this motley crowd was some hing ampuli ng A telegraph had been constructed along the margin of the lake, parallel with the course, with stations at intervals of one eighth of a mile connecting with Morrissey's gambling house in order that the prospects and chances of the several boats might be known to the gamesters who could "hedge or increase their bets as the boats passed each station Of course, Morrissey's was a bedlam of drunkenness and disorder, and a school for all manner of vice as well as a gambling house And it was here that the unemployed students of the various colleges were found all day a hundred of their colors being seen at one time A hundred beardless or just bearded boys maudlin with excitement and strong drink, hanging about a hell like that, is a picture that no one should love to look upon but which no one ought to ever look No term they ever went through at college could do them good enough to overmatch the evil of one day of such association under such circumstances It is reported that Yale and Harvard will decline hereafter to participate in intercollegiate regattas for reasons, it is presumed, of a different character from any thing here suggested, but there is good reason in the scenes at Morrissey's why all the colleges should take the same resolution, unless effective provision can be made to protect students from such contamination, which is not at all likely to be done

RAILWAY RUMOR

Some curiosity was excited last Saturday by the appearance in the Herald Journal of the following

It is reported that the negotiations which have been in progress for some time past in the East between Mr Ben Holladay and the Central Pacific Railroad Company of California in reference to the purchase of the east and westside railroads in this State have been brought to a conclusion We have no figures as to the purchase price and have only been informed in general terms that it was based on $6000 needs will be raised by a new issue of bonds of the Central Pacific Company which will include a new loan from the present bondholders sufficient in amount to complete the construction of the eastside road to a connection with Californian roads

We have every reason to believe this report to be true since it comes from reliable source It it is so it is the most important and gratifying news the people of Portland have received for many a day

A gentleman of this city informs us that Wm Kochler, Esq, the resident agent of the German bondholders, pronounces the statement of the Journal wholly incorrect It has been known to this community for some time that Mr Holladay contemplated endeavoring to effect a sale of his equity of redemption in the eastside road to the bondholders themselves, and vague rumors have been in circulation concerning negotiations for that purpose Also there have been reports of negotiations between Mr Holladay and certain parties in San Francisco for the sale to them of the westside road. The Journal report, however, is the first intimation of a sale of both railways to the Central Pacific Company

DOUGLAS COUNTY INDEPENDENT CONVENTION

The Douglas County Independent Convention was held last Saturday C Drain was chosen President and N. Webb Secretary The delegates to the Independent State Convention are J J Comstock, J C Drain, Binger Herman, W F Owens, Lendall Sutherlin, L Howe, Geo Jones and W R Singleton

A commission of Chicago architects commissioned by the mayor have been examining the new custom house at that city and have come to the conclusion that the government architects are wrong in condemning the building They say there are some trifling defects in the structure but in most respects it is all right and as to the idea of pulling it down as recommended by the government commissioners they think that would be the height of folly They are willing however, that some porticoes which have gone to the bad already, may be taken down

The disagreement of the jury in the case of John D Lee the Mountain Meadows murderer, has led to their discharge without a verdict That was to be expected It was never supposed by the prosecution that the jury could be got to agree to a conviction Light of the twelve were Mormons, and the case was more a trial of the Mormon Church than of any one man

At first Prof Jenny thought he could find nothing in the Black Hills worth going after Now he thinks that it contains everything that is worth going after He says there is gold in paying quantities but adds that the great wealth of the Black Hills is its grasses its splendid farming lands and its abundant timber

A Panama dispatch says everything is quiet and orderly in the Colomb an Republic since the treaty of peace between the States and the general government It is reasonable to hope it will be five or six months before another insurrection breaks out

The Umatilla County Independent Convention selected as delegates to the State Independent Convention T K Meeks J M Gale, Wm M Steen H C Woodson and Lh Stewart

The Richmond Dispatch having said it would welcome Gen Butler with open arms to the Democratic party the Detroit Tribune Republican says / Consider our arms open fully as wide to let him go

A gentleman writes us from Yamhill county that Hon Henry Warren has said to some of his friends that he would accept a nomination for Congress if tendered him

W H Beardsley and James Dwinelle are delegates from Baker county to the Independent State Convention

Ex Priest Gerdeman is lecturing on the Roman Catholic priesthood in the Eastern cities

CHINESE PERSECUTIONS —Yesterday afternoon a 2 o clock, quite a sensation was created near the corner of Alder and Second streets among the Chinese denizens of that vicinity which for a short time looked as if might terminate in a general row The occasion of the disturbance was an unsuccessful attempt made by the Chinese missionary Dong Gong to preach on the street to the idolatrous disciples of Joss and Confucius Dong Gong made his appearance at 2 o'clock on the sidewalk, and surrounded by several men converts to the Christian faith began to sing a hymn in the Chinese language The Proceeding did not impress the average Johnny as being just the proper thing for one of their country men to engage in So instead of quietly standing by and lending their ears to the sacred song, which the devout missionary was rendering, and paying heed to his earnest words of exhortation, delivered to them in their native tongue they became very indignant, and signified their disapprobation of the proceedings in the most unmistakeable manner by jabbering in a loud, excited tone of voice and gesticulating violently The threatening indications on the part of his countrymen, did not in the least deter Dong Gong in his efforts to preach to them. Within three minutes from the time the missionary first made his appearance, there must have been 400 Chinamen collected about the street and sidewalk, all greeted and agog No sooner had the missionary begun to sing and exhort than these Mongolian idolaters became forth like a swarm of rats from their domiciles, and sprang up in all directions, as in obedience to the waving of a magic wand Finding Dong Gong would not desist the words the indignant crowd resolved to do what virtue was in stones They began first to shower down on his devoted head ashes from the porch under which he was standing Not content with that, they grew quite demonstrations, and began to pelt him with stones and sticks, at the same time address him in an angry tone ordering him to cease preaching as they "no subbe no likee he talkee about 'Melican man's Joss" Had the missionary been allowed to continue it was easy to foresee that a riot would ensue. Seeing the danger the policemen interfered, and taking Dong Gong away from the crowd of his incensed countrymen put him in the room occupied by the Chinese Mission School, and locked the door It was some time before the excited crowd quieted down and dispersed Bloodshed would in all human probability have followed had it not been for the timely interference of the police.

BADLY BURNED—DIES FROM THE EFFECTS On Friday evening a little child of Mr. L. B. Phillips of East Portland, aged only about three months, was very severely burned at the residence of Mr Jas Bruce At the time, the child was lying in its cradle near the stove when a spark alighting on the mosquito-bar which was set on fire for the sleeping infant set it on fire Just before the mother and grandmother of the child had stepped into the yard for a moment to hang out some clothes and on returning were amazed to discover that the clothes enveloping the infant's body were wrapped in flames Quickly the fire was smothered, but not soon enough to prevent the child from being badly burned. Its face and legs, up to the knees, were badly blistered, the flesh in spots being fairly roasted. The cries of pain uttered by the little sufferer were painful to hear. Dr Rafferty was summoned and promptly applied the usual remedies. The little sufferer lingered in great pain until yesterday afternoon, when it quietly breathed its last The parents have the sincere sympathy of the community in their terrible bereavement No possible blame can be attached to any one

VERY ILL.—A few weeks since, Mr Daniel F Smith formerly of the firm of Smith Champlin & Co. went to San Francisco for the purpose of purchasing material and machinery for the Salem boot and shoe factory While in San Francisco, he was taken down with the typhoid fever and compelled to embark on the return steamer. On the passage he received no medical treatment and consequently reached here in a very bad condition the sea voyage having a tendency to aggravate the malignant disease. Mr Smith arrived here about ten days ago, since which time he has been confined closely to his bed. At present, we understand, he is quite low, and the chances of ultimate recovery are exceedingly doubtful.

PASSENGERS COMING —The steamer John L. Stephens which sailed from San Francisco for Portland yesterday (Sunday) morning, brings the following passengers Hon Stephen J Field Miss Swearingen, Mrs Wm Ashburner R D Wilson, Dr Pilkington, Mrs. C Bellinger and two daughters, Mrs E J. BOY RUN OVER.—A little son of John Morgan was run over yesterday afternoon at the corner of Third and Alder streets by a hack and sustained severe injuries The hack was coming rapidly down Third street and reaching the intersection of Alder, turned along that thoroughfare. The boy was at the corner and in attempting to run up on the apron slipped and fell He partially rolled under the vehicle and the driver being unable to check his horses in time, a wheel passed over the boy's right leg just above the knee. Fortunately the bone was not fractured, but the flesh is considerably bruised.

TRIAL TRIP.—On Saturday the O S S Co's fine new steamer Bonanza, built the present season at the basin Oregon City, made her maiden trip. Yesterday we were shown a dispatch from Oregon City which stated that the machinery of the new craft worked like a charm She was 22 minutes making the trip from the basin to Rock Island—a distance of five miles—which, for a new boat of the dimensions and draught of the Bonanza, can be set down as pretty good time The Bonanza promises to be one of the most valuable boats owned by the company

LONE TREE BAR.—In speaking of this bar on the Upper Willamet, the Statesman says We would like to call the attention of Gen Meihler who has charge of the river improvements to the present condition of Lone Tree bar about eight miles below this city This bar is in much worse condition than usual The steamers are sometimes delayed several hours and can carry but very light loads on account of it Of the $25 000 appropriated for this river let us have a few dollars on this bar now

THE EXCURSION:

INCIDENTS OF THE EXCURSION FROM PORTLAND TO ASTORIA, CAPE HANCOCK, UNITY, FORT STEVENS AND BACK AGAIN.

Last Thursday evening the elegant and commodious steamer Emma Hayward left the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf on a pleasure excursion to Astoria and vicinity and return, having on board about 150 persons. This excursion was given under the auspices of our fellow-townsman, Mr. George L. Deprans, who had made every arrangement in his power to render the trip pleasant and profitable to the excursionists. Considering the number of the excursionists, the party was a very select one—embracing many of our most respectable and influential citizens. A few minutes past 7 o'clock, the last whistle was blown, and amidst the pleasing strains of music discoursed by the Northwestern band, the steamer swung out into the stream and headed seaward. Soon after the steamer was under way, the cabin was lighted, music started, and dancing was inaugurated, which continued without intermission until nearly 11 o'clock. Those who did not participate in the dancing gathered about tables and whiled away the time in innocent games with the traditional "spotted pasteboard," and others of a social disposition were scattered in groups in different portions of the boat, and passed the hours of the evening in agreeable conversation. Kalama was reached about 10 o'clock, where the steamer stopped a few minutes to enable several persons to embark. Before 12 o'clock most of the excursionists had retired to their berths to seek for a few hours rest. Every state-room on board was occupied, and at least one-third of the excursionists could not be accommodated. However, Mr. DePrans, in view of such a contingency, had provided a large number of mattresses and blankets, which were spread down on the floor of the cabin. In this manner nearly all on board were provided with sleeping accommodations. Many, however, from choice, did not go to bed, but preferred to sit up and enjoy a "jolly good time." By 2 o'clock the Hayward had reached the upper end of Tongue Point, and as it was hazardous to attempt to cross at that hour, and there being no necessity for haste, Capt. Wm. Smith, who stood at the wheel, wisely concluded to tie up until favored with daylight. At the first and welcome peep of the gray dawn the steamer was put in motion, and Astoria, the objective point of destination was reached a little after 5 o'clock. Everybody had a good appetite, and no sooner had the steamer touched the wharf, than general scramble took place to see who should reach terra firma first and get to a hotel or restaurant. In less time than it requires to write, the streets of Astoria were lined with hungry Portlanders as they hurried along to reach some establishment where eatables were dispensed. The great rush was not anticipated, and consequently found the hotel keepers unprepared in a great measure, to satisfy the voracious army. But to the credit of the Astoria hotels and restaurants, we can truthfully say that they proved equal to the emergency, and we believe the appetite of no one was permitted to go unsatisfied. Breakfast over, the excursionists managed to pass several hours very pleasantly in strolling about the town, and looking at the shipping.

BASE BALL GAME.

Nine o'clock was the hour for the game to commence between the Astoria Club and the Pioneer Club of Portland, for a purse of $100, raised by the citizens of Astoria and this city. At the hour appointed, the Northwestern Band marched from the Globe Hotel up to the grounds,—near the Custom House—playing a lively quickstep. This drew together a large crowd, when the usual preliminaries were soon arranged. Mr. Foster, captain of the Albany club, who accompanied the excursion from this city, was selected to umpire the game. He acted as umpire until the beginning of the fourth inning, when some little difference arose as to a decision he made, and he asked to be relieved. Mr. R. Bird, who deservedly enjoys the reputation of being one of the best and most impartial umpires in the State, was chosen to take Mr. Foster's place. The game was called promptly at 9 o'clock, and the contest began. At the opening of the game Matthews was absent, rendering necessary a slight change in the positions assigned the Pioneer nine. Carroll was temporarily assigned the position of catcher, and Willis Duniway assigned the left field. Just at the close of the third inning, Matthews made his appearance and took his position behind the bat, Carroll relieving Duniway in the field. From the very outset it was plainly apparent that the Astoria boys were unequal to cope with the practice and experience of the Pioneers. The former club did some capital fielding, which more than any other cause reduced the score of the Pioneer club, and "whitewashed" them three times during the game. From commencement to close the contest was spiritedly waged, the Astoria club putting in their best licks, while the Pioneers continued to add to their score and keep that of their opponents down. Good feeling prevailed throughout the game, among the members of the contending clubs, and no differences of any consequence arose to give to the contest one unpleasant feature. We can compliment the good sense and justice of the people of Astoria in the bestowal of their applause, for while they felt a warm interest in and attachment for the members of the home club, and were anxious to see them carry off the purse, they did not manifest a spirit of partiality which might have been reasonably expected under the circumstances. When a good play was made by the Pioneers they were as ready to recognize it as if accomplished by their favorite club. The Astoria club did some handsome playing, as well as plenty of hard work, but fortune smiled on the efforts of the contending club, and the result showed a Waterloo defeat. Below we append the score:

CAPE HANCOCK AND UNITY.

When the game closed, the excursionists, accompanied by a number of ladies and gentlemen from Astoria, embarked on board the Emma Hayward, for a trip around Baker's Bay, as it was announced before leaving this city, that the steamer would visit the light house at Cape Hancock, Unity, and other points of interest. Uncommonly favorable weather was vouchsafed for the excursion from beginning to ending, and a more loveable afternoon than Friday, could not have been desired for a ride over the bay. The sun shone brightly in the heavens while a stiff breeze from old Neptune swept up lively, making the green hued waters of the bay pitch and toss like a miniature sea. One hour and a half was required to make the distance from Astoria to the wharf at the base of the cape. Although comparatively a smooth passage, some of the passengers did not escape being sick on the way over, and made the customary "contributions." One small child was taken deathly ill, and several ladies sought the quietude of their staterooms with more precipitancy than politeness. However, the sickness was of short duration and soon the "stomachic unpleasantness" was over. One hour was allowed the excursionists to ascend the cape and inspect the lighthouse. The privilege was improved by all, and soon the roadway leading from the wharf up to the summit was lined with men, women and children. Through the courtesy of Major Smith, of the military post, and Mr. Munson, the excursionists were shown through the lighthouse and permitted to inspect the ponderous ordnance at the fortification. After wandering about the cape, looking at the ocean as it stretched away into immensity from the rocky base of the promontory, and spending three-quarters of an hour in the most delightful manner possible, the whistle of the steamer gave the signal that the time for departing had arrived. Hastily descending the narrow road, the excursionists once more found themselves on the Emma Hayward, the prow was turned towards Unity, and again we were ploughing through the waters of the bay. Unity was reached and an hour given the excursionists to walk about the hotel and beach. Near the hotel were camped a great number of Portlanders, who were cheerfully dividing their time between hunting, fishing, digging the festive clam and bathing. An hour's time was very pleasantly passed at this point, when excursionists again embarked and were skimming towards Astoria, which point was reached about 5 o'clock P. M. Everybody was hungry and fatigued, but no one regretted the trip.

THE BALL.

On Friday evening a ball was given at Spiritual Hall, which was numerously attended both by the good people of Astoria and the excursionists. Music was furnished by the Northwestern Band, which is a sufficient guarantee that it was of an excellent character. In all respects the ball was a most enjoyable affair. Dancing was continued until after 2 o'clock, when the excursionists returned to the boat, to be in readiness to start.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

Three o'clock was the hour designated for the Emma Hayward to start for Portland, but it was nearly four when the last whistle was blown. On the way up the river a very pleasant time was experienced, for notwithstanding the excursionists were pretty tired and anxious to reach home, that fact did not prevent them from enjoying the beautiful scenery and the agreeable surroundings of the homeward trip. Portland was reached about fifteen minutes past 12 o'clock on Saturday, after an absence of forty-one hours.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The passengers on board the O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Emma Hayward for the excursion from Portland to Astoria, and thence to Cape Hancock, and back again to Astoria and Portland, Thursday and Friday, August 5th and 6th, desire to give suitable expression to the sentiments they feel toward Mr. George L. DePrans, the projector and general manager of the excursion, for the very satisfactory manner in which he has performed all that he engaged to do and more, in securing to them a singularly delightful and felicitious time from the start to the close, both while on board and on shore, at the points and places visited. And they heartily and cheerfully compliment and commend him for his unceasing efforts, and for his perfect success in catering to their delights, and affording to them all that it was possible for him to accomplish, in every respect and particular. Uncommonly favorable weather was vouchsafed for the excursion, and the order of things incident to the round trip as prepared and carried through by Mr. DePrans was better and more pleasing than even the brightest anticipations led them to expect. Particularly agreeable were the visits and sight-seeing at Fort Canby, by the courtesy of Major Smith; also Mr. Wass, at the light-house on Cape Hancock, by the kindness of Mr. Munson; and likewise at the camping and summer pleasuring grounds of Mr. T. Holman, at Ilwaco.

But while the trip around Astoria bay and to Baker's bay was very much enjoyed, it was at Astoria, and from the good people of that pleasant port, that the excursionists received attentions and hospitalities of the most generous and remembered character. It would be invidious to discriminate by mention of especial instances, but we will say that all seemed to join in these tokens of welcome and hospitality. The gallant and chivalrous members of the Astoria base ball club, who met and engaged the Pioneers in a friendly contest for the superiority, by their manly and generous conduct, have challenged and won a hearty admiration. The excursionists will long cherish the recollection of their visit there with feelings of the warmest gratitude and abiding friendship. By the able and thorough management of Mr. DePrans, the excursionists have been eminently pleased and entertained during the excursion. The Northwestern brass band, under the accomplished leadership of Professors Parrott and Bray, has furnished during the long trip very excellent music, and won for themselves the applause of all who have enjoyed the rare treat. The catering and supply of refreshments and viands by, severally, Messrs. Miller and Young, was at once choice and fully appreciated. The commander (Capt. Billy Smith) and officers of the Emma Hayward, merit full measure of praise for their skill and care, and also their courtesy; and on all sides we have only words of approbation to award.

But to Mr. DePrans, especially, do the excursionists accord the highest praise for the complete excellence of everything that was incident to his management of the excursion. He has made the excursion in every feature and respect uncommonly agreeable and joyous.

At a special meeting of the Pioneer Base Ball Club, held on board the Emma Hayward on her return-trip from Astoria, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Pioneer Base Ball Club are hereby tendered to George L. DePrans for the kind, courteous and gentlemanly manner in which he has treated the Pioneer Base Ball Club and their guests, on the excursion, and through whose efforts the excursion has been a pleasant and enjoyable trip, and one long to be remembered.

Resolved, That George L. DePrans be, and is hereby, elected an honorary member of the Pioneer Base Ball Club.

Resolved, That the secretary transcribe a copy of these resolutions in the record book of the Pioneer Base Ball Club.

JOS. BUCHTEL, President.
CHAS. A. PETRAIN, Secretary.

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

PIGEON SHOOTING AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

As we anticipated, the shooting match on Saturday attracted quite a large crowd. At 2 o'clock the party took up the march for the ground selected for the sport, and everything being in readiness, the shooting commenced at once. "Boss" Schenck, who is regarded by the sportsmen hereabouts as the best authority on all matters pertaining to shooting, was unanimously elected judge. The shooting was at 21 yards rise, 80 yards bounds, each shooter to use 1¼ ounces of shot:

FIRST SWEEPSTAKE.

Monnastes	1	0	1	1	4	Curry	0	1	1	0	2
Lownsdale	0	1	0	1	2

Capt. Ankeny having killed his five straight birds, took first money. There being four ties on fours, they were shot off at 30 yards rise—each shooter having three birds—with the following result: Norris, 2; Reed, 0; Monnastes, 3; Prettyman, 1. Monnastes killing his three birds, took second money.

SECOND SWEEPSTAKE AT THREE BIRDS.

								Total.
Sherlock	0	0	0	—	0	Chemin	1	0	0	—	1
Lownsdale	1	0	1	—	2	Niles	1	0	1	—	2
Acker	1	1	1	—	3	Scott	1	0	1	—	2
Griswold	1	0	0	—	1

Bybee and Acker, each, killing their three birds, shot off at three birds at thirty yards; Bybee again succeeded in getting his three (while Acker took two) took first money, Acker taking the second. During the match, there were some beautiful and difficult shots made. "Boss" Schenck and Shubrick Norris, Esq., each, made shots that were loudly applauded.

The trap used was new one, and it was supposed would work well, but we are sorry to say, did quite the reverse. The spring attachment was just of sufficient strength to shake the bird up a little, which, it was thought, would cause it to take its flight, but in most cases it signally failed, thus compelling the judge to throw clods and rocks at it, and when it did start it was invariably a "tail bird," a difficult one to shoot at best, and the shooter already disconcerted, generally missed them. These "tail birds" (those that flew directly from the shooter,) almost every time, flew low and behind the trap, the shooter being unable to get a "bead" on them until they had gone fifty yards or more. If he succeeded in hitting his bird, it would fall outside of bounds.

Although this score does not look as well as some expected, there were many who caught most of their birds but falling outside of bounds, gave them a poor score, as in the instance of "Uncle Jimmy" Stephens' shooting. He shot five times in the first match, killing four and ranking the feathers fly out of the fifth, yet scored but two.

The ruling of the judge was always satisfactory, but some who were engaged in the match thought the rule compelling the shooter to keep the butt of the gun below the line of the elbow until the bird had taken its flight should have been more strictly enforced.

Everything having passed off pleasantly all returned home in the evening well pleased with the day's sport.

Immigrants continue to arrive by each incoming steamship from California. They are all proving to be practical farmers, and as such are most welcome.

All the trotting stock was out on Saturday, and the way the dust flew on the macadamized road on the return from the pigeon match one would think somebody was in a hurry.

Mr. H. A. Oxer, Librarian of the Portland Library, sailed for Sitka on the California and will return on the same steamer. During his absence the rooms will be in competent hands.

A party of festive nimrods left this city on Saturday for a deer stalk among the foothills bordering the Tualatin plains. Another party left yesterday for the solitudes of the Cascades.

Yesterday an otter was observed swimming about the foot of Stark street. Several persons began to throw stones at the creature when it unceremoniously took its departure.

Messrs. A. Moller & Co., of this city, propose having built at an early day a scow for carrying lumber from their sawmill in Columbia City to any point desired upon the Willamet or Columbia rivers.

The building to be occupied by Messrs. Baugher & Rhodes for a sash and door factory is about finished. The engine will be put in this week and the machinery added soon afterwards. They expect to have it in working order in about six weeks.

"ELIZA LADD."—This is the name given to the new ferryboat built by Jos. Knott, designed to take the place of the old ferry, which was condemned some months ago and broken to pieces. For two months past the Eliza Ladd has been lying at the Albina Iron Works receiving the boiler and machinery. A few days since all the work was completed and the trial trip was made to the satisfaction of all. Saturday morning the Eliza Ladd was brought up from the works and landed at the foot of J street, on the east side, the intention being to put her on the line in place of the Katie Ladd, which has been doing service constantly for some months. It was discovered, however, that some slight defect existed in the steam drum, and it became necessary to take the ferryboat down to the iron works to have the needed repairs made. In a few days the Eliza Ladd will be making regular trips.

HUNTING EXCURSION.—We noticed Mr. C. H. Perkins, of the St. Charles Hotel—accompanied by the following gentlemen as his guests, namely, Chas. Prindle, Mr. Lord, Mr. S. G. Caudle, W. S. Plummer, R. Irving and brother, John Farrow, Mr. Dyer, Geo. Jones and Reuben Soper, Esq.—started out on a hunting excursion Saturday evening, completely equipped with the necessaries of life for a day's voyage. Being somewhat curious as to the result, we called around last evening and found a magnificent deer, weighing 225 pounds, in front of the house. The gentlemanly proprietor informs us that the one weighing 150 pounds was sent to his old quarters, the American Exchange. The gentlemen are highly elated with their success.

GONE TO CLATSOP.—The members of the Arcadian Base Ball Club, who have been down at Astoria and vicinity for nearly a week, went over to Clatsop beach yesterday. They will spend several days at that point, returning to this city about Thursday or Saturday of the present week.

SPECIAL BOAT.—Mr. W. B. Stillwell will run a passenger boat daily from New Tacoma to the old town, starting immediately after the arrival of the train from Kalama. Travelers will govern themselves accordingly.

ANNUAL TARGET PRACTICE.—The Washington Guard talk seriously of holding their next target practice at Salem, during fair week. In the event of their making the trip they will be absent at least three days.

HOW HER FATHER WEEDED THE BASHFUL LOVERS

There is no foolishness about some of the fathers of Dubuque county, Iowa who have marriageable daughters and they know how to precipitate business when the fruit is ripe for plucking and hangs wasting its sweetness when it should be plucked Matters were brought to a climax with a rush at a certain farmer's residence in Vernon Township recently A young tiller of the soil had for months and months been paying most assiduous attentions to one of his daughters but he was such a bashful modest man, never having been much in the company of girls except this one that he had never been able to raise his courage sufficiently high to pop the all important question

He had gone to the house in which his admirer lived upon at least twenty different occasions resolved to know his fate but when ushered into the presence of his fair one, into whose keeping he had placed his heart, his courage would invariably 'go back on him, and he would return to his lonely room in greater suspense than before Upon the evening in question he had determined that come what would, he would tell his Mary he loved her He would once for all decide the matter but, as upon each former occasion, he could get the proposal no farther than his throat There it stuck and he had just determined to gulp it down and give up the siege, when the door opened and in stalked the girl's father who advanced to where they were sitting and thus addressed them

'I came in to put a stop to this infernal foolishness It ain't the courting expenses that I'm looking at for coal oil's cheap an wood can be had for the haulin', but I'm sick an tired of this bilin an coon like a pair of sick doves, keepin me awake of nights and it's got to be stopped right here Mary June, look up here Do you love John Henry well enough to marry him?

'Why father, I—I—you must—

'Stop that darn foolishness yelled the old man 'Answer yes or no an mighty quick too It's got to be settled now or never

Well but father, don't you know—if you'd only wait and—

Dry up, answer 'yes' or 'no Speak' roared the old giant

'Well, yes then There now, and Mary again had her face

Thats business that's the way to talk Now, John look here—look up here or I'll shake you all to pieces Do you want that girl o mine for a wife? Speak out like a man now

'Why Mr —— ain't that rather a—I mean can't you—

Speak it out or out of this house you'll go head foremost 'I won't wait a minute longer There's the gal, and a likelier gal ain't in the State, an you just heard her say she wanted you Now John I won't stand a bit o foolin once for all yes or no?

Well yes, sir I have been presumptuous enough to hope that I—

O cuss your soft talk the things settled now You two blasted fools would have been six months more at that job if I'd done it five minutes I never saw such foolin as there is among young people now a days Ain't like it was when I was young—an now good night You can talk the thing over an you and me John'll go to town an get the license tomorrow Soon be time to go to plowin—no time for love-makin then good night good night hope I wasn't too rough but I was determined to fix the thing up one way or tother and the old man went back to bed

Now that the ice was broken the young people laid all their plans for the future and John felt just a little bad at the comfort he had lost when Mary looked up at him shyly and said

This would have been all right four months ago John if you hadn't been so sleepy I know all the time that you wanted to ask me but it wasn't my place to say anything, you know'

There seems to be a settled conviction in the community that the cessation of the local finances effected by the progress of the season and the now not seasonably expected navigation in all direction until the closure of the harvest is over and farmers are ready to sell their surplus crops That the demand for loanable funds will then be considerably increased is but a natural effect from an existing cause and we may confidently look for a brisk time and a good deal more business in the market than has been witnessed The supply of funds however available for that purpose is more common sense with the probable demand than it has been at any corresponding period for three years past and there is no more likelihood than remembrances of for any equal lack of capital will be felt In fact the indications now are that all those who engage in the exchange of our heavy surplus of breadstuff will do so under at least as favorable circumstances as have ever obtained upon the trade and growth of our young State

There has been no change in the rates for loans or discounts in our local market since our last review Everything has the appearance of working quite smoothly and in no respect have the failures reported elsewhere had any depression in our home affairs

Trade is not large in volume though individual transactions are quite frequent. The business of harvesting is now demanding all the attention of the agriculturall classes and merchants here as well as elsewhere are more actively engaged in preparing for the full trade than they are in placing large quantities of goods. Staple dry goods though ruling low are in fair demand with stocks not large but being increased Groceries both staple and fancy are firm at good prices for the season Coffees and sugars have an advancing tendency and prices may be put up at further before the close of another week

In the line of produce there are but few changes to notice the receipts being light and San Francisco prices steady The wool crop has nearly all been sold or stored and henceforth movements of this commodity will be slower Wheat of the new crop comes forward in small lots but the old trouble arising from the fact that shippers and producers are not able to see the future through the same glass causes a very quiet state of the market and makes transactions neither numerous nor large San Francisco wheat quotations are advanced a little and our local market is firm at the quotations given

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—A private dispatch received from San Francisco gave the market as very firm with the movement upward. FEED—Scarce and wanted at full rates

BARLEY—The yield in Walla Walla and Umatilla counties is larger than for any previous season and we can safely expect to be able to export very considerable more this season than last Owing to no transactions to note we cannot give market quotations

POTATOES—Market becoming better supplied and with a finer quality The home consumption takes all coming in at from ¾ to 1¼ ₰ lb

ONIONS—Report from the growing crop is favorable Importations from San Francisco continue Market quotable at from 2@2½c ₰ lb

APPLES—Fresh apples were sold to-day at from 40 cents to $1 per box.

DRIED FRUIT—Dried apples are in demand at from 7½@8c ₰ lb Dried plums are scarce and command 10c ₰ lb

BACON AND HAMS—Market is overstocked Prices rule low and buyers favor it for bacon 11@12c ₰ lb hams 11@12c ₰ lb shoulders @8c ₰ lb

LARD—Imported from San Francisco is freer The market is quiet at from 10 to 11c ₰ lb

EGGS—Prices dropped to 12½ per dozen then recovered and advanced to the milder all active even petition now quoted at 20c per dozen

BUTTER—Market firmer for best quality in rolls and also in kegs. We quote rolls for fair to choice 22½@25c All extra choice would command 30@35c In kegs we quote extra at 22½@25 ₰ lb in jobbing lots

CHICKENS—Old were sold to-day as high as $4 ₰ dozen

DUCKS—Demand light with prices lower quotable at $3 00 ₰ dozen

BEEF CATTLE—The consumption in this city from July 31 to August 1 1875 is given at 4 000 head Gilliam shippers prices are 2½@3c ₰ lb cut and 1½@2c on foot

MUTTON SHEEP—A light demand rules at from $2 50@3 ₰ per head

DRESSED HOGS—Trade dull at from 5½@6c ₰ lb

HIDES AND FURS—Hides are in a little better demand but no recovery in prices to given Furs are more sought for at former prices given Dry quoted hides best selected 14@15c ₰ lb culls 9c off green do elk 18@20c ₰ lb deer 18@20c ₰ lb for dried and 40@50c each green Mink skins $1 00 each otter $2@5 each beaver $4@5

WOOL—Receipts during the week have been large Owing to the large miscellaneous cargoes offering the steamship cannot take all the wool on the wharf From the interior advices report that all the growers have sold up to full duty Eastern and San Francisco advices note a fair demand for medium grade but for long clean staple a quick market is had We quote our market for valley at 25@26c ₰ lb for east of the mountains 18@21c
